We consistently evaluate our practices to ensure a fair approach in compensating all our employees.

*The mean pay gap is the difference between hourly earnings of men and women.

 The median pay gap represents the difference between the midpoints of hourly earnings for men and women. It arranges each individual's pay, by gender, from lowest to highest and compares the pay at the midpoint.

	Male	Female
% of employees who received a bonus	80.1%	82.1%

% of employees in each quartile	Male	Female
Upper Quartile	41.0%	59.0%
Upper Middle Quartile	60.3%	39.7%

Lower Quartile	61.2%	38.8%

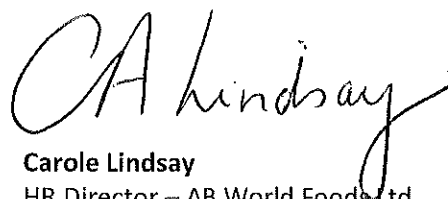

Our pay data evidences that we have a consistent distribution of gender in our bottom three quartiles, (40% women, 60% men). The primary reason for our Gender Pay Gap being in favour of women is that we have a higher % of women in our Upper Quartile.
